

This TMD sets out the key attributes of the Product, the likely class of consumers for which the Product could be appropriate, the distribution conditions and restrictions, and outlines the triggers for review of the target market. It forms part of the requirements of the Design and Distribution Obligations (DDO) for Issuers, required under section 994B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (the Act).

This document is not a comprehensive summary of the Product's features and does not take into account your individual objectives, financial situation and needs. You should carefully read the Product Disclosure Statement for this Product and we recommend that you seek financial planning advice, and consider whether this investment is appropriate to your objectives, financial situation and needs before making any investment decision.

How to read the TMD

This TMD uses Consumer Attributes to indicate the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the class of consumers within this Product's target market. A colour grading system is used to indicate whether consumers with the identified Consumer Attributes will likely fit in the target market.

Consumers are unlikely to be within the target market for this product if:

- one or more of their Consumer Attributes are  ;
or
- three or more of their Consumer Attributes are

Investment Products and Diversification

A consumer (or class of consumer) may intend to hold a product as part of a diversified portfolio (typically with an intended product use of satellite/small allocation or core component). In such circumstances, the product should be assessed against the consumer's attributes for the relevant portion of the portfolio, rather than the consumer's portfolio as a whole. For example, a consumer may seek to construct a conservative portfolio with a satellite/small allocation to growth assets. In this case, it may be likely that a product with a High or Very High risk/return profile is consistent with the consumer's objectives for that allocation notwithstanding that the risk/return profile of the consumer as a whole is Low or Medium. In making this assessment, distributors should consider all features of a product (including its key attributes).

The Fiducian Emerging Markets Strategy provides investors with the opportunity to invest in companies that are listed on the stock exchanges of the less developed (emerging) markets. Emerging market funds invest in developing countries and offer investors the opportunity to benefit from the significant growth potential inherent in many of these economies as they raise their standards of living. This strategy will be distributed through investment and superannuation platforms. Financial advisers may distribute this product as a consequence of the Strategy appearing on a platform.

Appropriateness

The Issuer has assessed the Product, its key attributes and its distribution conditions and has formed the view that the distribution conditions of this product are appropriate and will likely reach the class of consumers intended as the preferred model of distribution is through financial advisers giving advice to the product's target market.

The Product is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the consumers in the target market described in this TMD.

Product Features / Key Attributes	Consumer Attributes	Target Market Indication
Investment Objective
The objective of the Strategy is to exceed the benchmark index (after fees) over rolling 3-year periods. The relevant market index is the MSCI Emerging Markets Index (AUD). The Strategy provides investors with the opportunity to invest in companies that are listed on the stock exchanges of the less developed (emerging) markets. Emerging markets funds invest in developing countries and offer investors the opportunity to benefit from the significant growth potential inherent in many of these economies as they raise their standards of living. It is expected that by diversifying between the international share market segments, investors could be somewhat cushioned against unexpected volatility and loss of capital that any one country's market, industry sector or individual shares could generate. However, while this Strategy could deliver high returns over the long term, it could also show periods of significant volatility caused by rapid changes in investor sentiment, difficulties in buying and selling shares, regulatory changes by Governments, currency movements and economic and political developments. In our view, therefore, this Strategy appears suited for limited components of an investor's portfolio that are not needed for cash flow at short notice and can be left to grow despite large fluctuations, for potential long term gain.	Capital Growth	Green

Why is the Strategy likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of consumers

This Product is likely to be appropriate for an investor aiming for high returns over long periods of time, who are seeking to invest in international shares which comprise of companies listed on stock exchanges of emerging markets.

The Product is also likely to be appropriate for limited components of an investor's portfolio that are not needed for cash flow at short notice and can be left to grow despite large fluctuations, for potential long term gain. Investors within the target market of this Strategy will typically have a very high risk tolerance and are prepared to hold their investment for at least 9 years, aiming for longer-term returns. This is supported through the long-term returns achieved by the Strategy.

This Product is unlikely to be appropriate for an investor seeking short-term growth, a low- or medium-risk profile, capital preservation, or regular investment income.

This Product is likely to be appropriate for an investor who has a low- or medium-risk profile when used as a satellite with other defensive asset sectors.

Definitions

Term	Definition
Investment objective
Capital Growth	The product is designed to generate capital return from the growth of the value of the underlying assets over time. The product provides material exposure to growth assets or otherwise seeks an investment return above the current inflation rate.
Income	The product is designed to generate a positive yield in order to distribute regular investment income to investors. The product provides material exposure to income-generating assets (typically, high dividend-yielding equities, fixed income securities and money market instruments). The product may also seek long-term capital growth and be labelled with a 'total return' (or similar) strategy and objective.
Capital Preservation	The product is designed to preserve capital and limit loss in the portfolio. The product provides material exposure to defensive assets and seeks to reduce volatility and minimise loss in a market down-turn.
Capital Guaranteed	The product is designed to seek a guarantee or protection against capital loss whilst still seeking the potential for capital growth (typically gained through a derivative arrangement). The product would normally invest in products that are capital guaranteed investments, term deposits and cash, where future performance is not guaranteed other than that it not be negative.
Specialist (Sustainable / Ethical / Sharia / ESG)	These are funds that have a specific investment style and specialisation, such as ESG, Sharia etc.

Consumer's intended product use (% of Investable Assets)
Solution/Standalone (75-100%)	The consumer intends to hold the investment as either a part or the majority (up to 100%) of their total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer typically prefers exposure to a product with at least High portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Core Component (25-75%)	The consumer intends to hold the investment as a major component, up to 75%, of their total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer typically prefers exposure to a product with at least Medium portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Satellite (<25%)	The consumer intends to hold the investment as a smaller part of their total portfolio, as an indication it would be suitable for up to 25% of the total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer is likely to be comfortable with exposure to a product with Low portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Investable Assets	Those assets that the investor has available for investment, excluding the residential home.

Portfolio diversification (for completing the key product attribute section of consumer's intended product use)
Low	Single asset class, single country, low or moderate holdings of securities - e.g. high conviction Aussie equities.
Medium	1-2 asset classes, single country, broad exposure within asset class, e.g. Aussie equities "All Ords".
High	Highly diversified across either asset classes, countries or investment managers, e.g. Australian multi-manager balanced fund or global multi-asset product (or global equities).

Consumer's intended investment timeframe
Short ( $\leq 3$ years)	The consumer has a short investment timeframe and may wish to redeem within three years.
Medium (3 - 7 years)	The consumer has a medium investment timeframe and may wish to redeem within three to seven years.
Long ( $> 7$ years)	The consumer has a long investment timeframe and is unlikely to redeem within seven years.

Risk and Return
Very high risk	Consumer has a more aggressive or very high risk appetite, wishing to maximise returns and willing to accept higher potential losses (e.g. 6 or more negative annual returns over a 20 year period or SRM 7) and possibly other risk factors, such as leverage, that could increase returns, as well as the size and magnitude of losses.
High risk	Consumer will be higher risk in nature, willing to accept higher potential losses (e.g. 4 to less than 6 negative annual returns over a 20 year period or SRM 6) in order to target a higher target return profile.
Medium to high risk	Consumer will be higher risk in nature, willing to accept higher potential losses (e.g. 3 to less than 4 negative annual returns over a 20 year period or SRM 5) in order to target a higher target return profile.
Medium risk	Consumer will be moderate or medium risk in nature, wishing to minimise potential losses (e.g. 2 to less than 3 negative annual returns over a 20 year period or SRM 4) and comfortable with a moderate target return profile.
Low to medium risk	Consumer will be conservative or low risk in nature, wishing to minimise potential losses (e.g. less than 1 negative annual returns over a 20 year period or SRM 3) and comfortable with a low to moderate target return profile.
Low risk	Consumer will be conservative or low risk in nature, wishing to minimise potential losses (e.g. 0.5 to less than 1 negative annual returns over a 20 year period or SRM 2) and comfortable with a low target return profile.
Very Low risk	Consumer will be conservative or low risk in nature, wishing to minimise potential losses (e.g. less than 0.5 negative annual returns over a 20 year period or SRM 1) and comfortable with a very low target return profile.

Consumer's need to withdraw money
Low, Medium or High	The consumer seeks to invest in a product which permits redemption requests at various frequencies under ordinary circumstances and the issuer is typically able to meet that request within a reasonable period.

Review and Distribution
